

Vedanta Aluminium Wraps Up Women's Month 2026 with Grassroots Initiatives Empowering Over 6,000 Women

Bhubaneswar : As India observes International Women's Month 2026, Vedanta Aluminium, India's largest producer of aluminium, has concluded a month-long series of community engagement and women-centric initiatives across its operational areas in Odisha. The activities ranged from health and safety awareness sessions to cultural programmes and leadership recognitions, collectively reaching over 6,000 women, adolescent girls and community members. Commenting on the month-long engagement, Rajiv Kumar, CEO, Vedanta

Aluminium said, when women thrive, entire industries, communities and economies thrive with them. Vedanta Aluminium remains deeply committed to enabling this momentum by creating ecosystems that support women's growth both in our workplaces and in the communities we serve.